How do I get started?

Contact your A&K Sales Director or A&K's dedicated Group Travel Team to discuss available journeys and dates. Begin with a destination and date that works for a core group of travellers and build from there.

When should I start marketing and how can A&K assist?

The earlier you start, the better – typically 12-18 months out. A&K can create a co-branded digital flyer to market your group.

What journeys are available for groups?

Group space varies by journey and is based on availability. You can also add pre- and post-tour extensions.

How long do I have to market my group before I have to make a deposit?

We will typically put a courtesy hold on group space for 30-60 days before a signed contract and deposit is required. This depends on your travel date and sales demand.

Award-Winning Excellence

Backed by over six inspiring decades of experience, our reputation rests on one singular goal: Deliver the best possible travel experience to every guest, every time.
